"MIRROR MIRROR ON THE WALL..... WHERE IS THE BEST CLINIC OF THEM ALL?"

Forget surgical facelifts and liposuction-with the help of the latest non surgical procedures, it is now possible to transform your skin and body with minimal downtime and without any of the tell tale signs of enhancements.

"People want less surgery- they want to appear natural and less done looking", says Dr Dewji from LasaDerm." Softer treatments that deliver visible results without scars, heavy bruising or drastic changes are very much in demand right now."

LASADERM Medical Aesthetic clinic is ENDORSED BY TV'S "ASK THE DR"- CHRISTAIN JESSEN as the up and coming aesthetic service that provides the latest, safest, most reputable treatments performed by qualified Doctors.

Whether its erasing wrinkles, rewinding the damaging effects of sun, banishing breakouts or finally putting the end to the embarrassing red flushing experienced by Rosacea sufferers, LasaDerm offers a range of safe, modern and effective treatments tailored to each individual. Here's a low down on some of the most popular treatments offered at LasaDerm

WRINKLE SMOOTHING – when it comes to softening lines and wrinkles on the forehead, between the brows, crow's feet around the eyes, the popularity of Botox injections shows no signs of waning. Botox can also be used to reduce excessive sweating and more recently in the treatment of migraines.

Dermal Filler - If you're starting to get those pesky fine lines , wrinkles and that sunken hollow cheek look but aren't quite on board with the 'growing old gracefully' philosophy, then you might be looking into dermal fillers. If you are considering your options for a rejuvenated appearance then the complex world of dermal fillers can be a bit of a maze to navigate. Hyaluronic acid fillers are used to soften lines and wrinkles. Hyaluronic acid is a natural substance found in the skin, but the body produces less of it as we get older, which is why a top up can be useful.

As lines are filled, skin looks firmer and younger taking 10 years off easily andf the results can last upto 12 months. Its important that you go to a practitioner who has an eye for facial aesthetics. During the consultation the Doctor should be able to show you photos of before and after clients that "THEY" have actually done. The LasaDerm clinic uses a specialised method using a cannula to inject the filler which causes less bruising and delivers a more even outcome.

The Low Down on Body Reshaping and Skin Tightning

Before and after RF Treatment

SKIN TIGHTENING AND LIFTING- it's not just wrinkles and uneven tone that make your skin look older. As the years go by your collagen and elastin fibres weaken and deplete, leading to slack skin. The newest weapon in LasaDerm's anti aging arsenal is Radio Frequency which is creating a buzz thanks to its ability to lift sagging cheeks, turkey necks, jowly chins, craggy eyes and even soften and smooth out stretch marks and loose skin on tummies, without the use of a scalpel. Radio Frequency uses tripolar electrodes to deliver the energy which heats the deeper dermis to 55-65 which stimulates fibroblast to produce collagen. This cumulative increase in collagen and elastin has numerous benefits which include firmer, smoother, tighter skin with smaller pores, fewer wrinkles and a softer, plumper texture.

BODY RESHAPING - Thanks to the use of clever technologies such as 3D Non Surgical Lipo. You can now FREEZE, MELT and Liquefy fatty bulges, break up cellulite and tighten flabby skin without the incisions, pain or recovery time of a surgical liposuction. 3D Lipo utilises Cavitation (melting) and Cryolipolysis (freezing) to Zap Fat.

Before and After 4 Treatments

CAVITATION is designed to shift fat from podgy bellies, love handles, thighs, hips and arms. Many less sophisticated Lipo devices use lasers as the medium to remove fat but they are dependent on significant immediate exercise to achieve results. This for me always begs the question "Is it the procedure or the exercise that is producing the results? We know that exercise is an integral part of a healthy lifestyle but if you are fairly active and just not able to shift those pockets of stubborn fat then that is where these procedures should fit in!" says Dr Dewji.

CRYOLIPOLYSIS or CRYO is designed to "freeze" the fat. A moulded cup is fitted over the stomach, love handles, back fat or bingo wings for example; heavy duty suction pulls the pudge inside the cup where it's chilled to -4 C. Some of the fat cells are destroyed and ultimately disposed off by the liver, a process that can take up to 3-4 months. "A minimum of 25% reduction in fat cells that fit inside the cup is achieved, "says Dr Dewji. "That's a very high level of efficacy. As a clinician I need to know that the treatments we offer are safe, effective, scientifically based and fit in with our holistic care for our clients. 3D Lipo has delivered that for us!

Hoping to be the Face of the Globe

TWO girls from a city estate are off to the finals of a worldwide talent show in Paris.

Layla Gauntlett, eight, and her auntie and former Jessie J lookalike, Melissa Frayne, 24, from Grange Farm, won their Face of the Globe competition categories back in July.

The finals are being held in Disneyland Paris from Monday with the winner announced on Friday.

Both Layla and Melissa are 'absolutely overjoyed' that they'll be going to Paris together.

They are also hoping to raise awareness and funds for the competition's chosen charity, Rainbow Child Foundation, which helps disadvantaged children all over the world.

Paramedic plans are set to be discharged

BY JAMES AVERILL

james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

PLANS to set up bases for rapid ambulance teams around the city look set to be thrown out by councillors next week.

South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) has asked Milton Keynes Council for permission to build three Portakabins in Brickhill Street, Pitfield in Kiln Farm and next to the BP petrol station in Saxon Street, Linford Wood.

They would be known as Rapid Ambulance Amenity Points and would provide facilities for paramedics and somewhere for them to park their vehicles.

It is also thought they will help improve the time it takes for ambulance crews to get to emergencies.

But the plans have been recommended for refusal by planning officers because they fear they could have an 'adverse effect' on crime and anti-social behaviour in the area, saying that the cabins, when unattended, could be a target for criminals looking for drugs.

The officers also argue that the 8x3 metre cabin in Brickhill Street could 'impact visually' on the local area.

However, the plans have been backed by Milton Keynes MPs Mark Lancaster and Iain Stewart.

Mr Lancaster said: "I am very aware of the excellent work done by the ambulance service and I understand the value that three rest areas would give the staff and also help to improve rapid response times. I am supportive of the principal."

The planning applications are due to be discussed by members of the council's development control committee on Thursday, October 24.

A SCAS spokesman said: "We are of course hopeful that planning permission is granted and will be able to release more information once the outcome of the application is known."

Wheels are in motion to help improve buses

IMPROVEMENTS to the city's bus services are due to be discussed tonight.

Ideas such as smart traffic lights – powered by a computer to help delayed buses – and lowering speed humps are set to be debated at a meeting of Milton Keynes Council's cabinet.

It follows the city's low ranking in a bus passenger satisfaction survey by Passenger Focus in March.

The survey revealed passengers in MK were the least satisfied in the whole country, sparking a discussion between members of the cabinet and Milton Keynes Bus Users Group.

Peter Ballantyne, chairman of the bus users group, said: "We have come up with several suggestions.

"We'd like to see smart lighting introduced, which will stop buses from being delayed in traffic.

"We'd also like to see some speed humps being lowered, because it is not helping with suspension units on buses.

"And of course e-ticketing, where you can top up your tickets at the stations, would also help with delays."

The council's cabinet member responsible for transport and highways, Councillor John Bint, hopes that some of the proposals may be implemented by the middle of next year.

He added: "We have a bunch of ideas and we are always looking at improving the services.

"Smart lights is an interesting idea to explore and it's all about doing little things that can make a big difference to satisfaction."

The cabinet meeting will be taking place at the council's Civic Offices today at 7pm.

Tribute paid to murdered shopkeeper

A FAMILY has paid tribute to a shopkeeper from Bletchley who died of 'catastrophic' head injuries after being attacked in a flat above his convenience store.

Vairamutha Thiyagarajah was 'mercilessly' attacked by Thilak Mohan-Raj, 25, who had been given a home and a job by the fellow Sri Lankan.

The incident happened after Mohan-Raj stole money from the victim's bedroom above the shop in Bedford, which he also used as an office.

After being confronted by the shopkeeper, who was also known as 'Appa', the employee, who had only started at the shop the week before, attacked him. Mr Thiyagarajah died four days later in hospital, on April 11 this year.

Mohan-Raj was found guilty of murder and sentenced to a minimum of 25 years in prison at Luton Crown Court on Friday.

In a statement, Mr Thiyagarajah's family, who live in Bletchley, said: "This tragic loss has left an unfillable void in all our lives. There is an emptiness that has shrouded our lives and the gloom that has encircled us since April we feel will never fully lift.

"Appa was a loveable person who cherished and valued everything in life. He was a towering figure who guided us in every step of the way."

Send family messages of support

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THE family of Henry Allen has asked for Milton Keynes to 'hold them in their hearts' after they announced their son was now 'too ill' for treatment.

Henry, four, from Bletchley, suffers with neuroblastoma, a cancer which affects the nervous system.

The Henry Allen Appeal had been trying to raise money to send him abroad for treatment, but he is now sadly past the stage where medical care can help him.

The appeal team posted the following statement on its Facebook page this week: "Despite best efforts and care Henry is struggling to cope. He has become too poorly for treatment abroad and his mummy and daddy would like to take him home and keep him comfortable.

"Henry himself has said he doesn't want any more medicine.

"The appeal will continue but we must advise you that any money you now raise will not go towards helping Henry for treatment abroad. These will be combined with funds already raised to create a legacy for Henry and help another family whose child faces the same fight."

Following this statement, MK NEWS is asking readers to send in their messages of support, which will be passed on to the Allen family.

Worker argued with boss while holding a knife

A WORKER who was sacked from his job after an argument with a supervisor – while he was holding a Stanley Knife – has claimed that he was unfairly dismissed.

Coca-Cola worker Moses Vidal was sacked in April after 25 years following an angry confrontation on the factory floor and despite an appeal the decision was upheld.

The 60-year-old rowed with his supervisor, Geoff Gerrard, during a night shift at the plant in Milton Keynes when he asked him to clear up some rubbish.

The company fired him at a disciplinary hearing at which the supervisor said he had shouted at him while holding a Stanley Knife that he used to cut straps on boxes.

Mr Vidal, from Woodland View, Wolverton, is claiming unfair dismissal at the Bedford Employment Tribunal.

He said: "In my opinion it was far more logical to finish this task and then clear the boxes from the front of the machine.

"Mr Gerrard wanted to impose on me the fact that he was my supervisor and I should do as I was told."

Mr Gerrard said Mr Vidal was "very intimidating and aggressive towards him."

Keeping fit: Mums take part in one of the buggy boot camps, which was held in Campbell Park

Time to buggy at boot camp

A BUGGY boot camp has been set up to help parents get into shape while they are looking after their children.

Mums – and even some dads – can run around fields and parks and up and down hills and redways while pushing their little ones in their pushchairs during the classes, set up by personal instructor, Andy Whyte, who has a one-year-old son

"These classes mean mothers don't have to pay for crèches for their young ones," he said. "The word has gone around that it's a hardcore workout and some of them who come have twins, so it's even more difficult for them!"

The classes take place every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Kitten is thrown away in rubbish

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A NEWLY born kitten has been miraculously rescued from the back of a rubbish truck.

The black and white kitten, believed to be just one or two days old, was discovered in the back of a Cawley's truck by workers last Wednesday.

They heard the friendly feline, now called Skippy, meowing underneath a foot of rubbish and wrapped him in a piece of carpet to keep him warm.

Lescha Marshell, the transport controller at Cawleys who found Skippy, said: "When we found him he still had his eyes shut.

"He definitely wanted to be found. I was talking to one of the drivers and we could hear a plaintive mewing coming from the back of the lorry. We could see he was really young and really hungry.

"We decided to take him to Feline Cat Rescue where we knew he would be looked after properly and they fed him every two hours through the night."

Staff at the centre in Luton have been taking it in turns to check on Skippy and Rebecca Stone, from the customer service department, said: "I visited him on Friday night. He is adorable and doing really well."

Cawleys collect rubbish from across the city, including thecentre:mk and Bletchley Park.

Tenancy change 'wrong'

MILTON Keynes Council seems intent on introducing 'flexible tenancies' for some new tenants.
In affect what this means is an end to permanent housing for council tenants in Milton Keynes.
The council will then have to decide who will be offered a permanent home/secure tenancy or a temporary home/flexible tenancy, which may last up to five years.
This policy is something the council is choosing to do, it is not required by law to do so.
If flexible tenancies are introduced it will create a climate of fear and anxiety for tenants.
If they step out of line, if a child leaves home, if someone dies, if people make complaints against them, or if their wages are increased it may stop their tenancies being renewed.
The council has carried out consultation on the policy twice and out of those who responded, 253 said no and 200 said yes. The council states it does not know how much it will cost to implement a flexible tenancy policy, exactly how many new tenants will be affected or how many homes will have their tenancies renewed or not renewed under the flexible policy.
Most people realise nowadays that in order to be allocated a council home you have to pretty much jump through the eye of a needle as there are so many conditions attached in order to be housed.
It's wrong that some new tenants will be threatened with the possibility of having to leave their home after five years.
Today the council's cabinet will make a decision on whether or not to introduce flexible tenancies at the Civic Offices at 7.30pm.
A petition, organised by Milton Keynes Defend Council Housing, will be handed in with more than 500 signatures asking the council not to adopt flexible tenancies and ask those democratically elected to the council to act on the will of the people.

Parking space 'wasted'

TAKE a look at these pictures taken between 11.30am and noon on a typical shopping day in CMK, showing the low use of premium parking zones and a nearby cheaper zone completely full. Does this tell Milton Keynes Council anything?
What a shocking and expensive waste of land and facilities. Red parking zones are too extensive and expensive – the evidence is plain to see. Why not rethink the zones and restrict the red ones to spaces immediately beside the shopping building, standardise charges throughout the rest of CMK, do away with the ugly surface painting and make the MK shopping experience more convenient, attractive and affordable?

Toilet 'gaffe' by council

IT IS absurd for Milton Keynes Council leader, Councillor Andrew Geary, to attempt to shift the blame for the lack of public toilets at the city's railway station onto CMK Town Council ('Not flush enough for loos', MK NEWS, October 2).
His comment that 'the provision of toilets is typically a town council responsibility' lacks credibility. Was CMK Town Council responsible for providing toilets at the new MK coach station? When Milton Keynes has its own airport will the local town council be responsible for providing the toilets?
Milton Keynes Council was responsible for the station revamp and has failed, so far, to ensure that basic toilet facilities have been provided.
It appears to be yet another inconvenient gaffe by our accident prone Conservative-run council.

Thanks to Samaritan

ON OCTOBER 6 my wife and I were travelling back from France to the Lincolnshire coast via Milton Keynes to collect a trailer.
On collecting it one of the wheels was flat but I was able to tow it to a garage. I was having problems inflating it and a man went to get a socket set and spare tyre.
By the time he returned I had managed to inflate the tyre, but due to the uncertainty of whether it would stay inflated the man said 'borrow my spare and drop it back to me'. I said that I lived over 120 miles away so he said post it back. I then asked him if he would sell it to me. I was aware I was very open to being taken advantage of as to price. "Yes," he said, "the tyre is not very good give me £10". Wow, I thought, what a kind person. The wheel was fitted and I went to give him £15 but he insisted all he wanted was £10.
Should the gentleman read this I would just like to say a very big thank you to him and also let the residents of Milton Keynes know what a very kind Samaritan they have in their midst.

Celebrating the 175th anniversary of Wolverton Works

THE Wolverton Works 175th anniversary month passed with several very successful events at MK Museum and the Creed Street Arts Centre, so what are the next anniversary events?
Three years ago, the planned open weekend at the railway works was cancelled despite record ticket sales.
Visitors were attracted by the prospect of the two works' locomotives being used on passenger trains and being named Wolverton and Bradwell.
But both happened at the only Wolverton 175 railway-based event at the Chinnor and Princes Risborough Railway (C&PRR).
The two locomotives have been repainted into a Knorr-Bremse livery and were officially unveiled at the weekend and will be on show again on Saturday and Sunday. The engines have also been officially named Wolverton and Bradwell!

On track: The Wolverton engine will be used to drive passenger trains

Knorr-Bremse, the new owners of Wolverton Works, has honoured a previously made agreement that these locomotives, used to shunt The Royal Train, can leave Wolverton and be used on passenger trains on the C&PRR.
Wolverton departed Wolverton Works on October 1 still smelling of freshly applied paint and was named at the C&PRR by Wolverton's Steve Cross, who has driven the engine for more than 30 years.
He also drove a similar locomotive at Wolverton named Haversham, now based at the C&PRR, which has been reunited with Wolverton and Bradwell.
Trains also ran from Princes Risborough to Chinnor on Saturday for the first time since 1957 and will be in action again on Saturday. For full details visit www.wolverton175.co.uk

In the spotlight: Dr Tina Beloveth Powerful is refuting claims about Havard School

Havard 'fraud' claims denied

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THE head of a city school has denied allegations of fraud.

MK NEWS has obtained emails from a number of educational bodies who claim Havard School should not be offering some of its courses.

Organisations, including the Institute of Administrative Management and NCFE, say they will be investigating whether the school has offered their courses without the appropriate accreditation.

But the school's president, Dr Tina Beloveth Powerful, has strongly refuted the claims and also dismissed allegations the school is offering false certificates.

She said: "We are not offering those courses.

"It says on the website that these are pending accreditation.

"They do not need to know me for me to offer their courses. There are people who need to use their commonsense."

She also told this paper that she was not aware of any investigations into the school by Milton Keynes Trading Standards.

But when MK NEWS asked whether an investigation was taking place, a council spokesman, speaking on behalf of trading standards, said: "As this business is subject to an ongoing investigation it is not appropriate for us to comment in detail."

Dr Beloveth Powerful said: "Nobody has got in touch with me, I have not seen anything about criminal activity. I don't know what they are investigating me for."

As previously reported by MK NEWS, the school is being sued by Harvard University in America, which claims its copyright is being infringed and its reputation 'threatened' because it has a similar name.

Shops to be served up at MK Food Hall?

THE owners of the Food Hall are asking for the public's views on the future of the site.

The building in Midsummer Boulevard, CMK, is currently home to Iceland and smaller independent stores, but with the old Sainsbury's site still empty and the former Waitrose now being home to MKIce's temporary rink, a question mark has been hanging over how it will be used in future.

Ben Tolhurst, asset manager for owners Hermes Real Estate Investment Management Limited (HREIML), said: "The food centre is a really important site for the whole of Central Milton Keynes.

"Our engagement with the local community is a critical part of what we do in Milton Keynes – trying to understand the community's needs and wants.

"We welcome any thoughts on usage for the food centre and we continue to review options from both a retail and a leisure perspective.

"However, our long-term hope is that we can keep food retailing in the centre of Milton Keynes."

It is thought HREIML will consult with the public and businesses over how the Food Hall should be used in the near future.

Paying tribute: 'Rocket' Ron Jones' coffin makes its way down the High Street in Stony Stratford

Saying goodbye to 'Rocket' Ron

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

MOURNERS lined the street to give one of Stony Stratford's most popular characters a proper send-off this week.

As reported in last week's MK NEWS, 73-year-old 'Rocket' Ron Jones, a road-sweeper who was a permanent fixture on the town's High Street for many years, died earlier this month.

And on Monday afternoon more than 100 people braved the rain to say goodbye to their beloved friend.

Wellwishers lined the street and applauded his coffin as it passed, followed by members of his family.

One of those was Ron's brother Dave, who emotionally told MK NEWS: "He may have been a Bradwell boy, but he always loved Stony Stratford.

"His death was very sudden and a shock to us all. But it is a fantastic tribute to him that there are so many people here. Everyone in Stony loved Ron and what he did."

Other people were discussing their favourite memories of Ron, including his regular lunchtime sit-down with a cup of tea at the bottom of the street.

Keith Smith, who has known Ron all his life and lived opposite him growing up, said: "Everyone here remembers the time he was dressed up as Santa and switched on the Christmas lights.

"He was drinking a pint of Guiness out of a straw and one kid came up to him, saw the tattoo on his hands and said 'You're not Santa, you're Rocket Ron!'. Everyone, even the kids, knew who he was."

Ron, who was a great grandad, worked for council contractors Cory and Serco. He was called 'Rocket' because he could 'empty three dustbins in the time it took a normal man to do one.'

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Dialing code change

OFCOM has announced residents in Milton Keynes will have to dial the area code when making local calls from land lines from October 2014. The change is because of the high demand for new telephone numbers.

Charity raises £20K

MORE than 200 guests helped city charity MK SNAP raise over £20,000 at its autumn gala dinner on Friday. The charity helps adults with learning difficulties live more independent and active lives in the community.

New church rector

MATT Trendall has been appointed the new rector of Christ King Church in Walton. He will have responsibility for the Wavendon congregations and his first service took place yesterday.

Housing funding bid rejected

MILTON Keynes Council's bid for funding to help it tackle the number of people being 'illegally' housed in bed and breakfasts has been turned down.

At the end of June, more than 60 families had been in temporary accommodation for longer than the statutory six weeks.

The council was invited to bid for funding from the Department for Communities and Local Government, but papers obtained by the BBC show its plans were rejected for not being 'innovative'.

A council spokesman said: "Our proposal was to assist us in accessing more private rental properties, as that is the only area where we can secure additional housing.

"We accept what we were proposing was something tried and tested rather than innovative, but it is what is necessary for our local housing conditions."

Skate park noise resolved

A SOLUTION has been agreed to reduce 'unacceptable' noise levels at Broughton Skate Park.

Milton Keynes Council had issued an abatement notice to The Parks Trust because the noise levels – particularly late at night and in the early morning – were above an acceptable threshold.

But the trust is now meeting the requirements of the notice, after restricting opening hours and installing a fence. The 2.4 metre-high fence is now expected to be permanently erected before Christmas.

The trust said it was 'pleased to mitigate the noise impact'.

Rev has faith in community role

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

A COMMUNITY minister has been appointed by a group of churches in a new approach to finding out how they can help people in the city.

The Rev Ruth Maxey will be getting out into the community in the developing areas of Broughton and Brooklands and said she is looking forward to seeing how her 'minister without a church' role will develop.

"What has happened with the church in general over the years is that it has inadvertently retreated into itself," she said.

"My role is about doing what the church has always been doing and it's about freeing ministers to do what they are supposed to be doing.

"We can't know how things will grow and it's up to me to listen to the community and see what they want and need."

The role has been created by the Walton Churches Partnership, which consists of the All Saints Church in Milton Keynes Village, Christ the King Church in Kents Hill and St Mary's Church in Wavendon.

Taking the church to the community: The Rev Ruth Maxey in Broughton

The Rev Maxey, who worked as a chaplain at Keele University in Stoke-on-Trent for 10 years, was full of praise for the innovative way the partnership is trying to move forward.

"These three churches have looked at these new estates imaginatively and said 'how can we reach out to them?', which is great."

Share your views on this: www.mkweb.co.uk

The Rev Maxey will work with other people and agencies to establish new Christian-led worship, service and community groups and her post has been funded by the United Reformed Church. Anybody wishing to contact her can email mkcommunityministry@gmail.com

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Crew: The team who helped create film The Dead Inside

Zombies brought to life in MK for a film

SCENES of a new zombie film were shot in the city's Theatre District.

Parts of The Dead Inside, written and produced by Julian Hundy, were filmed at the former Cheerleaders nightclub.

The film, which was released on Amazon on Monday, follows the fate of a group of hapless individuals holed up in a local school for protection from hordes of zombies.

Work may spark end of fireworks

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THOUSANDS of people will be left disappointed after a popular annual firework event at Bletchley Park was cancelled.

The annual Blitz Night fireworks have been called off due to building work next to the codebreaking HQ, which no longer allows the venue to host the event safely.

The Blitz Night was a popular event on the MK calender, but the health and safety issues mean that while the park has said it will 'review' holding the event next year, the prospects look bleak.

A statement issued by Bletchley Park said: "Unfortunately the Bletchley Park Trust has had to cancel this year's Blitz Night event as housing being built adjacent to the site precludes us from safely holding this event, as this was traditionally the firework fall-out zone. The situation will be reviewed next year."

The news means that there will be no firework display in Bletchley this year and there are currently no plans to relocate them elsewhere within the town.

It comes in the same week that West Bletchley Council announced the 'disappointing' news that its popular Annual Festival of Christmas, which was also held at Bletchley Park, has been postponed for 2013 due to renovation work at the park.

A look to the future?: An artist's impression of how Wolverton's Agora could be developed by new owners

Agora up for sale

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THIS is what the Wolverton Agora could look like if ambitious plans to redevelop the site go ahead.

The artist's impression has been released by Milton Keynes Council this week following news that owners Leyland Holding Company want to sell the centre and have asked chartered surveyors and property consultants Kirkby & Diamond to market it as a 'development opportunity'. The hope is that local and national developers will be interested in building new shops and reconnecting Radcliffe Street to create a new heart for Wolverton town centre.

Last month, the development brief for the Agora was formally adopted by the council.

Marie Osborne, from Future Wolverton, said: "The development brief and the neighbourhood plan are both material considerations for any planning application that a buyer might make. This means that what replaces the Agora must meet the aspirations of the local community and tick certain boxes."

Cllr David Hopkins, cabinet member for economic development and enterprise, added: "I hope the sale of the Agora will pave the way for the submission of high-quality redevelopment proposals for the site and help to restore a thriving town centre."

Soccer skills: Daniel Cutting shows off his freestyling skills at his wedding to Kelly. Daniel makes a living travelling the world performing, but says his favourite place to perform has been his hometown ground of stadiummk

Groom's on the ball

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A PROFESSIONAL freestyle footballer kicked off his wedding by showing off his skills as he walked down the aisle.

Daniel Cutting, 26, from Shenley Church End, surprised the congregation at his wedding – but he avoided the wrath of his blushing bride, 25-year-old Kelly, as she was fully behind the idea.

Daniel told MK NEWS: "It honestly wasn't something that I had planned.

"But a week before the wedding I overheard my mum saying 'I bet he does some freestyling', so it was entirely her idea!"

He has since put a video of his antics at his wedding, which took place on the Isle of Wight in August, on YouTube and it got an incredible 30,000 views in just over a day.

"I'm glad it's doing well. I've never seen anyone do that down the aisle before, so clearly people have been taking notice," said Daniel.

"Kelly was supportive of the idea and she was one of the very few people I told that I was doing it.

"She saw it as a way of me entertaining the guests while they were waiting."

Daniel, who has five Guiness World Records to his name – including the quickest 100m with a football balanced on the head (18.53 seconds) – admitted that despite performing in front of thousands of people at big football stadiums, this was the most nerve-wracking performance he has ever done.

"It's only looking back at the video that I realised how nervous I was.

"I was full of adrenalin and it really was a freestyle down the aisle!"

Nik has a recipe for success with sauces

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A COOK who makes up to 500 bottles of sauce in the kitchen of his house every week has been recognised as one of Britain's best artisan food producers.

Nik Sinclair has been named a winner in the BBC Good Food Show Bursary Scheme 2013 – just one year after setting up his business, Sinclair Condiments Co, at his home in Kents Hill.

The BBC team has been scouring the country to find the most outstanding artisan food and drink producers.

And Nik,who produces more than 10 products and has a five star food hygiene rating from Milton Keynes Council, impressed judges with his fermented green chilli sauce, English mustard and hot banana ketchup.

"My last job wasn't really going well, so I left and thought I would re-evaluate what I would do," said Nik.

"I had never really done cooking before, but I had made some homemade ketchup and I decided to start my own condiments business."

Getting saucy: Nik Sinclair making one of his winning sauces

And as a result of winning the Good Food Show bursary, he will now have a stall at its national show at the NEC in Birmingham in June, which would normally cost more than £2,000.

Nik said: "It's a great opportunity for my Milton Keynes-made sauce. This will really help the business expand."

Volunteers keep watch on speed

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

CONCERNED residents are trying to stop motorists from driving through their village too quickly.

Volunteers in Aspley Guise have set up their own Speedwatch scheme and three of them take to the streets every month to record how fast drivers are going through the village.

In a one hour session in August, Speedwatch recorded 26 vehicles exceeding 35mph with only one of them registered to a local person.

Residents are also worried about how quickly people are driving on West Hill at the junction where the road meets Weathercock Lane.

Hidden data gathered by police for one week in June showed 44,174 vehicle movements, of which a third were above the 30mph speed limit.

Those exceeding 35mph totalled eight per cent – or 3,533 vehicles – during the week.

More than 90 children wait for school buses on the main road through the village during rush hour and with pupils walking to Aspley Guise and Swallowfield lower schools and Fullbrook Middle School on very narrow or nonexistent pavements, councillors are concerned an accident could be caused if drivers continue to speed.

On the look out: Speedwatch volunteers in Aspley Guise

Aspley Guise Parish Council chairman, Ian Pickering, wants to get traffic calming measures installed in the village.

"There has never been an accident here, which I guess is why we can't get these traffic calming measures installed, but it's about prevention and stopping accidents from happening at all," he said.

But he believes the decision to turn the A421 into a dual carriageway will lead to fewer motorists cutting through the village.

"We want to see the A421 as a dual carriageway so that there are fewer reasons for people to drive through Aspley Guise," he added.

Going the Extra Mile for charity

MILTON Keynes Rotary Club has helped raise more than a million pounds for charity after holding a 500-mile relay cycle race in France for the last 10 years.

The group works with its sister club in Bedford and the Extra Mile Challenges charity to put on the events and those benefitting from this year's ride include Willen Hospice and Medical Detection Dogs. There were 42 teams of four that took part in the relay.

White Hart pub plan was 'misunderstood'

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THE group behind plans to build an autism school on the site of a former pub has said its previous proposal was 'misunderstood'.

The Cambian Group had previously submitted a planning application to Milton Keynes Council for a male-only mental health clinic on the site of the old White Hart pub in Whaddon Way, Bletchley.

But it shelved the plans after they were met with fierce opposition by local residents and councillors. But it says it is 'delighted' new plans for an autism day school for children have been met with a much more positive response.

A spokesman said: "Our plans to develop a mental health rehabilitation hospital were met with some concerns locally. This is often due to a misunderstanding of such a proposed 'mental health' service. Nationally we have set these services up in similar locations with great success as I am sure would have been the case had we progressed these plans."

What do you think? www.mkweb.co.uk

But Denbigh ward councillor, Nigel Long, has denied 'misunderstanding' mental health issues was the sole reason the original plan was not supported.

He said: "The site was too small to be a mental health clinic and could have been dangerous. This new plan has much more potential."

Good sport: Greg Rutherford, centre, with pupils from Stanton Primary School, sports leaders from MK College and Asda staff

Jumping in to help

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

AN ATHLETE who struck gold at the Olympics wants to see more children involved in sport in the city.

Greg Rutherford, who took the long jump crown at London 2012, was at MK College's Bletchley campus and the town's Asda store as part of the Sports Leaders UK programme, which aims to get more people running sporting activities.

Forty-eight children from Stanton Primary School took part in the event on Thursday, which included sports like netball, boxing and rugby organised by 15 sport leaders from the college.

"It's been great fun today," said Rutherford, who lives in Woburn Sands. "As part of the post-Olympic legacy it's really important to get kids involved in things like this.

"You don't see children climbing on trees and kicking a ball around these days and we've got a nation of children who pretend to play sport on games. It's down to us to get children excited and get them actively involved in sport and getting outside doing things."

Shelley Meyern, senior national development manager at charity Sport Leaders UK, said: "Greg is an Olympic gold medallist and he's from the area so it's been exciting for the children to be able to meet and talk to him."

She added the skills the young sports leaders learn through organising events were transferable life skills.

"They improve skills in communication, planning and organising. If they go into sport then great but they're learning about customer service skills and working with young people."

Robert Hodgson
Branch Manager, Taylors Estate Agents
436 Midsummer Boulevard
Milton Keynes MK9 2EA

Dear Rob,

Just a brief word to express our gratitude for the great work that you and your team did recently. You will recall that our house was previously offered for sale with another prominent, multi-office local estate agent with no success. In fact for the three months that that estate agent had the property, we had but one person to view the property and no expressions of interest. Regrettably all we have received from that agent was sweet words and platitudes rather than offers.

We then offered the property for sale with Taylors and within two weeks, had two offers. By the end of the third week we had sold the property. Granted the first agent was charging slightly less but what use was that when they failed to sell the property! Congratulations on a job well done.

I have no hesitation in recommending you and your team. I never thought there was any difference between one estate agent and another, I now know I was mistaken.

Best regards.

Yours sincerely,

MK NEWS went to Milton Keynes Central Station and asked: What do you think to the rail fare price cap?

"IT IS less of an increase than recent plans so it is a positive benefit. The new season ticket option could be interesting and help commuters per year."

Nigel Cooper, 50, Loughton

"I LIVED here seven years ago and the prices had doubled when I moved back. The increase is still a lot. It's already expensive. It's just getting ridiculous."

Martina Davidson, 32, Oldbrook

"IT'S good, it costs a fortune to get to London otherwise. I work in London and know a lot of people who live in MK and do the same so it's good we will benefit."

Damion Jeffrey, 39, Walnut Tree

Rail fare rise cap

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

TRAIN companies will be banned from adding an extra five per cent to the annual rise in rail fares, meaning thousands of commuters from Milton Keynes will pay less for their tickets.

A Government cap will limit operators to an increase of just two per cent above inflation, saving an average commuter £200 a year.

As previously reported, fares will rise overall by 4.1 per cent in January, but the move means they can't go up more than 6.1 per cent.

There are also plans to trial 'flexible' season tickets, which could cut costs for part-time workers and people who sometimes work from home.

The measures are part of the Government's fares and ticketing review published by the Department for Transport last Wednesday.

City MPs Iain Stewart and Mark Lancaster have welcomed the move.

Tell us what you think at: www.mkweb.co.uk

Mr Stewart, who is a member of the Parliamentary Transport Committee, said: "I am delighted by these measures, which will go a long way to helping residents with the cost of living."

Mr Lancaster added: "It is a welcome announcement for all of Milton Keynes' commuters who are often fearful of the increases the rail companies will impose on them in January."

Getting fired up: Teams from Milton Keynes Academy are preparing their business ideas for a Dragons' Den-style event

Pupils will enter the Dragons' Den

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

BUDDING entrepreneurs from the city's schools will be pitching their business ideas in a Dragons' Den-style event next month.

Teams of 16 to 18-year-olds from 15 schools including Milton Keynes Academy, Oakgrove School and Walton High, will give 10-minute presentations to representatives from businesses in the city such as Network Rail.

And like true dragons Duncan Bannatyne and Deborah Meaden, they will listen to the team's ideas and question and advise them on how they could improve.

The event, taking place throughout November, is being organised by the Milton Keynes Young Enterprise team, which is aiming to unite local businesses with schools.

David Stimson, one of the organisers and business mentor at dsp-newstart, said: "It is aimed at focusing the kids and showing off their entrepreneurial spirit."

Deborah Gockelen, director of personal development at Milton Keynes Academy, who is looking after some of the school's teams, added: "The Dragons' Den exercise gives them [the students] a sounding board to test the viability of their ideas."

Milton Keynes Young Enterprise is still searching for more business representative to be dragons.

To find out more, email david.stimson@dsp-newstart.com

THE BENEFITS OF TRANSFERRING YOUR PENSIONS INTO AN EMPLOYER'S SCHEME

Have you been offered the opportunity of transferring your pensions into an employer's scheme and are you uncertain whether or not it is represents a good deal?

I was recently referred to a couple whose employer had been taken over by another business which is owned by Milton Keynes Council. This couple have joined the Local Government Pension Scheme. They can apply to transfer their existing pensions into the government scheme within 12 months of commencing employment.

Their existing pensions are all ex-company money purchase schemes, in other words they consist of a pool of investment funds. How much pension they will eventually receive is dependent on how well their pot of money is managed and performs. Most employers' pension schemes are now money purchase schemes.

The Local Government Pension Scheme is one of a dying breed known as a defined benefit scheme. It pays you a guaranteed pension based on a formula which takes into account the number of years you have been a member of the scheme and your final year's salary before retirement. It is otherwise known as a final salary scheme. Virtually all employers have given up offering defined benefit schemes and have replaced them with money purchase schemes. The public sector continues to offer defined benefit schemes.

It is possible to transfer either type of pension into a public sector final salary pension scheme as long as the scheme allows it. The key question is though should you transfer your pension into it? This is where a comprehensive pension analysis service such as the one we offer comes into play. You need an analysis which can objectively show you the advantages and disadvantages of such a transfer as well as demonstrate to you all of your options.

If you are considering transfer your pensions into an employer's scheme or are simply approaching retirement and need advice why not get in touch?

Cold homes may be costing lives

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

Feeling the cold: Older people are struggling to afford heating

BETWEEN 100 and 200 people could be dying due to fuel poverty in Milton Keynes every year, according to one charity.

The reason for the deaths could be that a lot of older people are living in properties that were built in the 1970s, which don't have insulation measures as good as houses built today.

The estimation from Age UK Milton Keynes' marketing and fundraising manager, Paul Griffiths, comes as energy supplier SSE announced an 8.2 per cent rise in gas bills on Thursday, with others expected to follow.

And as reported in last week's MK NEWS, national energy supplier E-ON has also scrapped its StayWarm scheme for older people.

"Some of the older houses in Milton Keynes aren't particularly energy efficient," said Mr Griffiths.

"There is a lot of old housing stock around Milton Keynes and older people tend to live in those areas.

"With the announcement from SSE of an 8.2 per cent increase in prices from the middle of next month – and with similar announcements from other utility companies expected to follow – I cannot see the situation improving any time soon."

The Office of National Statistics says 90 people died from fuel poverty causes in MK in 2010-11, up 20 from the previous year.

The statistics for 2011-12 are expected to be released next month. This number could be less than expected though after the Government changed the definition of fuel poverty earlier this year, moving one million people out of this category.

The highest number of excess winter deaths recorded for Milton Keynes was 170 in 1999/2000 and the lowest number was 10 in 1997/98.

According to the MK Community Foundation, more than 6,000 households are living in fuel poverty in Milton Keynes. Almost half of those living in fuel poverty in the UK are aged over 60.

A buzz about bees

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

THIS summer's dry and hot weather has given bees some much-needed respite after the last two years of rainy, damp conditions.

One hive in Aspley Guise has produced honey for the first time after Katharine Sorensen suffered two years of difficult conditions.

And because bees are doing better, more plants have been pollinated, which means there have been more apples, plumbs, cherries and brambles in Milton Keynes this year.

Katharine started bee-keeping three years ago, but two queens have died in her hive.

But after having her hive re-queened twice, she was able to keep them going and has been given a surplus of honey from them this year.

"I have been very grateful to have kept the hives going during the bad summers," said Katharine.

"But with the support of Bedfordshire Beekeepers I'm hoping that the bees will get increasingly strong and survive the winter.

"The apples from the tree in my garden have been massive this year so there has been plenty of food for the bees and I've also had a very good year for fruit and vegetables."

Martin Kincaird, biodiversity officer at the Parks Trust, said the better conditions Katharine's hive has been enjoying mirrors a trend both nationally and in Milton Keynes.

"It's pretty straightforward with bees – if the weather is hot the numbers of bees in the colony will build up.

"The temperatures really boiled up in June, which is the crucial time for bees, so they have been able to go out foraging.

"It's been a particularly good year for insects and I have been noticing a lot more bees around.

"The population of bees in most of England has been dramatically higher than in recent years and fortunately bees have had a really good year here too."

Busy bee: Katharine Sorensen with her hive

Among the species of bee that have increased in population are bumblebees, honeybees, solitary bees and the mason bee.

Jacqui's fine voice is heading to The Stables

HER voice has been hailed as one of the best of her generation – it's quite an accolade.

But it isn't without merit, as it is some of the biggest music critics who have uttered those words about Jacqui Dankworth.

Following the acclaim of her 2011 album It Happens Quietly – which topped jazz charts around the world – Jacqui is back with new album Live to Love.

"It might well be my most personal album yet and I can't wait to show it to the people of Milton Keynes," she told MK LIFE.

And it's not surprising. Track It's Tomorrow's World is a reggae-inspired homage to a tune written by her late father and the title track has been penned by her pianist husband Charlie Wood.

But while she is no doubt looking forward to showing off the new tunes, there will be plenty of time for her to belt out the back catalogue as well.

Jacqui will be appearing at The Stables on Friday at 8pm. Tickets cost £18.50 from www.stables.org or the box office on 01908 280800.

worldtour

AFTER decades of sold out shows and international recognition, musician Gilberto Gil embarks on a new kind of world tour through the southern hemisphere in this documentary to be shown at MK Gallery.

Viramundo tells his story as he travels from Bahia to the land of the Aborigines of Australia and the townships of South Africa, ending in the Brazilian Amazon region.

With the same passion, Gil continues the work he began as Brazil's first black Minister of Culture – promoting the power of cultural diversity in a globalised world and sharing his vision for the future.

The event takes place on Friday from 7pm and tickets cost £5 for adults and £3 for concessions.

To pre-book call the gallery on 01908 676900.

WE'RE fast approaching winter, but there is still plenty you can do in the garden. Frosts Garden Centre's chief executive James Frost gives MK LIFE readers some top tips

OCTOBER is a busy month with harvesting of apples, pears and grapes and garden maintenance before the winter sets in.

In the flower garden cut back perennials that have finished flowering and if your clumps have got large then you can lift and divide them into smaller ones to reinvigorate them for next season.

Tender plants should be tidied up and brought in to the greenhouse now before it is too late.

If you have not pruned your climbing roses, this should be done this month. Bush roses can be tidied up by trimming back old dead heads and reducing height to avoid winter damage.

In the vegetable garden harvest what is left and start to dig the soil, you can also be planting spring cabbage.

If your rhubarb is getting too big now is the time to divide the roots and replant.

Now is your last chance to do lawn maintenance, you should be able to get in a final cut. The main activity is to remove the dead thatch to let in the light and air. Aerate the lawn using a lawn aerator or fork to puncture the surface letting in air and an autumn feed can be applied to strengthen the grass for winter.

fifareview

FOR a few years in the noughties the gaming world was gripped by the battle between FIFA and Pro-Evolution Soccer.

Now that FIFA is established as the game of choice for footy fans, the big question is how will it improve for next year?

The answer for FIFA 14 is that it is simply far more realistic. The art of defending has been made more difficult, meaning a clean sheet is an item to treasure even on world class level. And scoring is more difficult as well, encouraging you to build from the back rather than tear down the wing with Walcott. Its closeness to real life makes this arguably the best FIFA edition there's ever been.

talentfestival

ENJOY an all-day music and comedy festival on Saturday.

Oxjam MK will be 'taking over' the city with gigs hosted at venues to celebrate local artists, bands and comedians.

Audiences will be entertained by performers like singer Sam Ward and band Casual Panic.

Other acts taking to the stage include Sean Grant, Manny and the Coloured Sky, Bailey McConnell, Cristianne Doran, Michael Squire, Rise Bailey Rise, Steve Winch, Giacomo Palmieri, Pippa Akers and Mark Stanley.

If you haven't heard of Oxjam before, it is a nationwide event that takes place across the UK in October raising money for Oxfam by putting on all-day music festivals celebrating local artists, bands and DJs.

Acts will be playing at both Xscape's Revolution MK and Wonderworld from 2-11pm.

An all-day wristband costs £10 in advance for a limited time only. After that they cost £15.

This will also allow you entry to the official after party at Cookies & Cream in the Theatre District until 1am.

To buy your wristband visit www.wegottickets.com/fbts/event/239083

For more information and the latest band and artist announcements visit www.oxjammk.com or the Facebook and Twitter page /oxjammktakeover

BENEDICT Cumberbatch is everywhere at the moment!

The Sherlock Holmes star has a number of upcoming projects, including playing a real hero of Milton Keynes, Alan Turing, in the Bletchley Park biopic The Imitation Game.

But as it stands, his portrayal of Julian Assange in The Fifth Estate is set to be his biggest role for a while yet.

And Cumberbatch gets the mannerisms of the whistleblowing Aussie spot on and he looks unnervingly like him as well – even if the accent could perhaps have been improved.

The movie has been far from welcomed by Assange himself – who has labelled it 'a geriatric snoozefest that only the US government could love' – although he did state his admiration for Benedict's previous work.

The film centres on the story of WikiLeaks from its first war logs in Iraq, exposing the US military's abuses.

Assange is joined by IT expert Daniel Domscheit-Berg (played by Rush star Daniel Bruhl) in thoroughly annoying governments around the world.

The film is alright, and Cumberbatch does a good job, but it perhaps does not concentrate enough on the impact that Assange's whistleblowing had.

ADVERTORIAL

You only need a 5% deposit to secure your new home

Now is a good time to check out your mortgage options.

The Government's decision to bring forward Help-to-Buy Phase 2 is encouraging news for first-time buyers and home movers, according to local leading estate agency Taylors in Central Milton Keynes.

The second phase of the scheme is a mortgage guarantee, which allows buyers to purchase a home worth £600,000 or less with just a 5% deposit. The mortgage guarantee applies to all property purchases, not just new-build homes, and the Government will guarantee up to 15% of the value of the property through an agreement with the lender. Help-to-Buy Phase 2 was expected to launch in January 2014 but the Government has bought it forward to October 2013 as a continuation of its pledge to help more people across the country become homeowners. The Government aims to do this by increasing the supply of low-deposit mortgages and enable those with a 5% deposit to get on the housing ladder.

Commenting on the launch of Help-to-Buy Phase 2, Julian Stratton, Senior Financial Services Sales Manager at Countrywide said: "We welcome the launch of Help to Buy Phase 2 which will enable more people to get on the housing ladder and alleviate pent up demand for those wishing to purchase their first home or trade up. As part of Countrywide plc, the UK's largest mortgage broker, we are able to offer our customers access to a range of competitively priced mortgage products ranging from 95% to 60% loan-to-value. Through Help-to-Buy Phase 2 we are delighted to be able to offer a 90% and 95% loan-to-value mortgage from one of the high street's leading lenders."
The interest rates for a 95% mortgage available through Help-to-Buy Phase 2 mean that the mortgage is affordable and repayments are manageable for homebuyers. For many people the monthly mortgage payments will be cheaper than the cost of the average monthly rent.
"First-time buyers and home movers with just a 5% deposit should speak to a mortgage consultant now to find out more about the best mortgage options to suit their needs," says Julian Stratton.

The first phase of the Help-to-Buy scheme was launched in April 2013 and offers loans of up to 20 per cent to all homebuyers who are purchasing a new-build property up to the value of £600,000. Buyers only need a 5% deposit to qualify and the Government will lend them an equity loan of 20% of the property value. The loan is interest-free for the first five years, after which buyers must pay an annual fee. Borrowers can repay the loan at any time.

For further information about Help to Buy Phase 2 and to find out more about your mortgage options, please contact Andre Marcel or Charlotte Walters by telephone on 01908 240981.

Refurbishing your fleet vehicles can save you big time. The cost of repairs from D & A Auto Group is a fraction of what you could very well end up paying in penalties for returning damaged vehicles to your leasing agent / fleet provider.
Our approach to fleet repair work is simple - restore vehicles to meet the guidelines laid out in your Fleet Wear and Tear documentation so you avoid penalty fees.

DONS

Robbo responds after Westley accuses boss of 'poor form'

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

DONS manager Karl Robinson has accused Stevenage boss Graham Westley of writing 'fiction' after his rival claimed he had 'let himself down' in a newspaper column.

Westley took issue with Robinson's comments after his side's 2-1 victory over Dons in the second round of the Johnstone's Paint Trophy last week and decided to air his grievances while writing for the Football League Paper.

"Karl Robinson let himself down on Tuesday night after my Stevenage side played well to beat his MK Dons team," wrote Westley, under the sub-headline 'MK Dons boss lacks style'.

"He described his team's performance as a 'shambles', 'embarrassing' and a 'waste of 45 minutes of my life'.

"He described their display as 'playing their [Stevenage's] way'.

"Well I take issue with Karl. My lads worked very hard. They put MK Dons under relentless pressure with and without the ball.

"Our set plays were inventive and well executed. And our general play was fast, forward focused and purposeful; on a different day, the result could have been more convincing.

"Our display was neither embarrassing nor a shambles. I thoroughly enjoyed our performance and our fans did too. Especially off the back of four defeats, we showed real strength of character."

Robinson and Westley shared an angry exchange on the touchline at Deepdale last October when the latter was in charge of Preston North End, and there is clearly little love lost between the pair.

The Dons boss said that he had been informed of the article by his media department on Monday and had not read it properly when asked if he would like to respond to Westley's comments by MK SPORT.

War of words: Karl Robinson and Graham Westley on the touchline during Dons' Johnstone's Paint Trophy clash at Stevenage

"I believe it's very tarnishing and disrespectful," he said.

"I was very respectful to Stevenage, I had a go at my team.

"I called my team a shambles on the day.

"I said they reverted to playing their style. Their style is their style, that works for them.

"I'm not going to criticise their style, but we can't play the way they play.

"Everything he said about my team is my own words, that they should have won by more.

"I've obviously hit a spark. I've got no problem with Stevenage, I think it's a wonderful football club which is run very, very well."

A clearly irritated Westley continued his article by discussing his take on Robinson's budget and resources.

"Karl is a lucky guy," wrote the Stevenage boss.

"He gets a lot of praise for someone who has fallen short of his targets so far.

"The reality is that he has some outstanding players at his club.

"Luke Chadwick, Stephen Gleeson, Darren Potter, Shaun Williams and Dean Lewington know the game inside out and play it exceptionally well. MK Dons ought to do very well.

"A fellow manager told me the other week just how good finances were at MK. Karl would do well to stop trying to take cheap shots and trying to belittle a fellow manager's team. It is poor form."

Dons beat Stevenage 4-1 in League One earlier this season and after this exchange it seems unlikely that there will be many pleasantries when the two sides meet again at the Lamex Stadium in March.

"He talks about budgets," said Robinson. "My daughter reads a lot of fiction books at school and that's certainly fiction.

"We know the truth, we know where we are financially.

"We know we've constantly finished above our budget every year."

MK Dons Head of Coaching GARY WADDOCK writes exclusively for MK News every week

MARTIN Allen was sacked by Gillingham this week – I thought he was doing a fantastic job there.

We came up through the ranks together as players at QPR, I am a couple of years older and we played in the same position in the midfield.

He had a fantastic playing career and was doing very well at Gillingham.

Obviously he won League Two last season and there were signs that he was starting to turn things around this season for them, they beat us at the start of the month.

Martin is obviously someone known very well here having previously managed the club and he is just an honest and very likable fellow – when I lost my job at Wycombe Wanderers he was one of the first on the phone.

I'm not sure where he gets his Mad Dog nickname from, perhaps it's something that stuck with him from his time at West Ham. I think of him as being more hard working and I'm sure he'll get back into management soon.

This Saturday we face another 'character' when Steve Evans brings Rotherham United to stadiummk.

He has done very well there this season since getting promotion from League Two and he must be a good manager as he has won the Conference – I know how tough that league is [having won it with Aldershot] as there is only one automatic promotion spot before the play-offs.

If you look at the Conference now there are so many teams with a Football League background who are finding it hard to get out of there. So credit has to go to Steve. He's passionate on the sidelines where he kicks every ball, which is obviously something that works for him.

We thought we should have had at least a point against leaders Leyton Orient on Saturday but that has gone now, so we have to concentrate on Rotherham.

City still table toppers and Bletchley run riot

MILTON KEYNES remain on top of the Southern Counties North table after running in eight tries in a 50-13 victory at Reading Abbey – which wasn't as easy as it sounds.

Dan Rolfe crossed from out wide to score City's first try of the afternoon and scrum-half Rob Lasbrey was the second to cross the Abbey whitewash in an extremely physical contest.

Phil Powell missed both conversion attempts and Abbey, relegated to this level last season, finally got on the board thanks to a Tom Waterhouse penalty.

Abbey were battling strongly but they could find no way over the Milton Keynes try line and Rob Matthews touched down for a third City score. Powell missed the conversion again, but he was successful in front of the posts after Ashley Targett scored a fourth try, making it 22-3 at half-time.

In the second half, City took the game away from their hosts with four further tries as part of a storming spell.

First, Ollie Fountain broke through two attempted tackles to score under the posts, and then Scott Aspinall fell on a loose ball for a sixth try. Powell ably converted both times and MK were not done, adding another two tries through Rolfe and David Brown.

Abbey added two unconverted tries as consolation, through Jules Greenaway and Sam Hallett, but City's top spot was never in doubt.

They do have local rivals BLETCHLEY hot on their heels though after the Manor Fields outfit moved up to second thanks to a massive 89-7 home win against Wallingford.

Stu Van Rooyen's side ran in 15 tries in a superb return to form after last week's disappointing 16-10 defeat at Aylesbury.

First team debutante Adam Wilkinson was the star of the show with an astonishing six tries all to himself and Bletchley had crossed 11 times before Wallingford got on the board.

John Kirwan set the ball rolling and Matt Nobes, Paul Mellon and Tom Foster all touched down before half-time alongside a treble from Wilkinson.

Phil Harman was first to cross in the second half and he was followed in by Wilkinson, George Harman and Steve Allen before Wallingford added their sole try of the game

There was still time for tries from Dan Reed, a second from Nobes and two more from Wilkinson to leave Bletchley a point behind a Milton Keynes side they beat 20-13 on opening day.

Elsewhere, OLNEY lost 29-13 at home to Newbold on Avon in the Midlands 2 East.

Jack Sutton's try gave the hosts an 8-7 lead but Newbold scored 22 unanswered points before Will Edwards added a consolation try with the final scoring play of the match. Jordan Letts' penalty was the only other score for Olney as both try conversions were missed.

After a switch from the Southern Counties North this season, Olney are ninth in their new division.

There's better displays to come from Lightning

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

LIGHTNING coach Nick Poole was particularly pleased with his side's pair of victories at the weekend – as he believes that the team can play better.

The city skaters defeated local rivals Peterborough Phantoms 7-4 at their temporary home of the Coventry Skydome on Saturday, and backed that up with a 3-2 success away at Slough Jets 24-hours later.

Poole believes there is more to come though as his exiled side look for crucial points in the English Premier League and Cup competitions.

"They were really good results at the weekend," said Poole to MK SPORT.

"We ground out the victories and that is pleasing.

"We were missing a couple of key players in Ross Green and Blaz Emersic which meant that the lines were mixed up, but they did well.

"The guys worked hard, but I'm not totally happy as I know they can play better."

A side playing below their best and still picking up victories is often a promising sign and Lightning have now won three of their last four matches to leave themselves fifth in both the League and Cup tables, with games in hand over the sides currently above them.

Phantoms are a team that Lightning always like to put one over and although the feeling would have been sweeter had it been on Milton Keynes ice, Poole said that the Coventry move – necessitated by the refurbishment work at their usual Planet Ice venue – was going well.

Although inevitably not attracting the same levels of home support that they would have if still playing in the city, Lightning fans are still travelling to Warwickshire in good numbers.

"The Coventry rink has been very good for us and the players have been fantastic," said Poole.

"There have been no complaints and no whining from them."

A fantastic second period for Lightning did the damage against Peterborough, with Poole's men winning it 5-1 to out-spook the visiting Phantoms.

Poole replaced Emersic, who was away at his brother's wedding, himself and saw his side take the lead on the powerplay thanks to Grant McPherson's fourth minute strike.

Marc Levers squared the match for Peterborough after Jordan Hedley had beaten away Luke Ferrara's shot and the first period ended level.

The fireworks then began at the start of the second stanza with Peterborough drawing first blood thanks to Erik Piatak who fired in to the left of Hedley.

They weren't celebrating for long though as Tom Carlon's weak looking effort levelled things and Janne Jokila put Lightning ahead by squeezing into a tight gap just after the half an hour mark.

It was Jokila who added a fourth after he dusted himself down after being tripped on route to goal to score with a penalty shot.

Leigh Jamieson blasted home a fifth from just outside the blue line and a shocked Peterborough conceded a sixth five seconds before the buzzer when Michael Farn followed up Carlon's blocked effort and tucked home.

After that goal-fest the third period was a more low key affair, with the Phantoms finding two powerplay goals – the second a five on three – before Jordan Cownie bagged an empty netter for MK to complete the scoring.

Against Slough, Stan Lascek sealed a dramatic late victory with a powerplay strike just under two minutes from time.

Darius Pliskauskas' opener for the Jets was cancelled out by Connor Goode, but former Lightning man Muzzy Wales put Slough back in front.

Skipper Adam Carr levelled again before the late heroics from Lascek.

Vettel wins but title champagne is still on ice

Win: Vettel celebrates his victory in Japan

SEBASTIAN Vettel's World Championship celebrations remain on ice despite his victory in the Japanese Grand Prix on Sunday – although the Red Bull Racing man is now all but assured of bringing home a fourth straight title to Milton Keynes.

The German has now won the last five races in a row after his triumph at the Suzuka Circuit but closest rival Fernando Alonso – who would have had to finish worse than eighth to hand Vettel the Championship in Japan – is still marginally clinging on to his coat tails after coming fourth.

As it stands Vettel still enjoys a 90 point lead over the Ferrari driver with just 100 points left available and a fifth place or higher at the next grand prix in India will seal the title for him.

Indeed, he only needs to ensure that Alonso does not rack up 16 more points than him to guarantee a party at the Buddh Circuit.

A fourth straight title would be a phenomenal achievement not only for the 26-year-old, but the army of Red Bull workers based at Tilbrook who have seen their RB9 car dominate proceedings as former cars have done in previous years.

Vettel's win in Japan, following a superb tactical drive after a slip from third to second after the green light, highlights the driver's class as he seeks to become the youngest man to win Formula One's ultimate prize four times.

Afterwards he claimed that he wasn't thinking about the seemingly inevitable glory which now awaits him.

"The Championship is the big target of course, but the season is very long still and the best way to wrap it up is not to think about it," he said. "I'm happy to go home for a bit now and to relax before we go out to India.

"That's an impressive country and I'm looking forward to racing there in a couple of weeks."

Vettel's team-mate Mark Webber finished second from pole position, after tyre strategy – which was key all afternoon – dictated that he have a three stop race compared to Sebastian's two stop.

The one-two has strengthened Red Bull's grip on the Constructors's Championship too, which they now lead from Ferrari by a mammoth 148 points.

"It was a great result for the team and both Championships," said team principal Christian Horner.

NON LEAGUE FOOTBALL

NEWPORT Pagnell Town are second from bottom of the United Counties League (UCL) Premier Division after a 3-0 defeat to Northampton Sileby Rangers on Saturday.

The Swans have now lost five games in a row in the league and cup and haven't managed a goal in their last four.

Elsewhere, UCL Division One side Olney Town blitzed through in the Berks & Bucks Intermediate Cup by beating Aston Clinton 7-2.

Will Wright's goal for Olney was the only score before the break but the Nurserymen then clicked into gear, scoring a further six within 18 minutes.

James Wardell grabbed a hat-trick, Sam O'Neill struck a brace and Jason Goldman also registered as Olney went through.

Old Bradwell United were knocked out at the same stage though thanks to a 2-1 home defeat against Chalfont Wasps. Peter Madigan scored in the 90th minute for United in the losing effort.

In Division Two of the Spartan South Midlands League, New Bradwell St Peter were beaten 2-1 by Luton's The 61 FC and Willen were hammered 8-1 at home to Kent Athletic.

SWIMMING

A TEAM of 42 swimmers competed for the City of Milton Keynes Swimming Club in Spalding, Lincs, on Saturday, against tough opposition in the first round of the Arena League.

After two events CMK were in the lead, but Norwich surged ahead in the initial relay events and it was clear that it was going to be a battle for second place with perennial rivals Notts Leander.

The spot changed places no less than four times through the individual events, but CMK increased their advantage through the last few relays and secured second. It means the club stays on track to make the regional final in December.

BOBSLEIGH

MK ATHLETIC Club members Craig Pickering and Nikki McSweeney have both been named in Great Britain squads for the Winter Olympic qualifying season.

Both will now hope to make the grade ahead of the Games in Sochi, Russia, next year.

Pickering, best known for his sprinting, competed at the Summer Olympics in Beijing in 2008.

HOCKEY

MILTON Keynes Men's 1sts were beaten 7-2 by London Wayfarers in the second game of the South Hockey League Premier season.

Tom Anderson and Jamie Dodd were on the scoresheet for the city side but they slipped to defeat against the Capital outfit.

The result leaves MK tenth after two games and they are still searching for an opening win after the 3-3 home draw with Sevenoaks to start.

Meanwhile, the Ladies' 1sts lost 1-0 to Oxford 2nds in the South League Division 3A, meaning they slip down to tenth in the table with one victory from their four games so far.

Dons must ease pressure on Bamford's shoulders

BY DAN PALMER

dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

KARL Robinson believes that Patrick Bamford is the best striker MK Dons have ever had – but he is worried that the rest of his attacking players are not shouldering the goalscoring burden.

Chelsea loanee Bamford has been a revelation this season and has already bagged 11 goals, but his deal from the Premier League giants expires on January 5, leaving a worrying looking void if no agreement to extend it can be made.

Dons have been crying out for a prolific 25-goal-a-season striker for sometime and 20-year-old Bamford could be that man, but losing the goal contributions from other parts of the pitch wasn't part of manager Robinson's script.

He has called on the trio of players operating behind Bamford in his favoured 4-2-3-1 formation to start to contribute more as Dons look to address a three match losing slump and re-enter the League One play-off spots.

"Our seven, ten and 11 were very prominent last year but they are not contributing to goals," said Robinson. "I'm more worried this year than I was last year even though we're scoring a similar amount of goals, because I had goals coming from all over.

"The goals were evenly spread and we can't just rely on one player [Bamford] as that's not the way this system is supposed to work.

"Patrick was supposed to be the support mechanism for the 60 goals we scored already, and add on to that, but it's not been the case and we've put all of our eggs into Patrick's basket. It's too much of a pressure on his young shoulders."

Bamford's latest strike was in Saturday's 2-1 defeat at undefeated League One leaders Leyton Orient, and the club's next top scorer is defender Shaun Williams who has only netted four, with his tally including three penalties.

Injuries to wide pair Dean Bowditch and Daniel Powell has not helped Robinson's cause, as the two regularly chipped in last season, but those who are on the pitch need to step up to the mark.

"We don't have that consistency this season and it's a big worry for me," said Robinson. "We have to get that area of the park right."

Luke Chadwick is one player who will be looking for more goals as the former Manchester United midfielder has yet to register in his 14 appearances so far this term.

"Patrick's scoring most of our goals," said Chadwick.

"People have been playing different positions and we're not as settled, but we all need to start chipping in and getting a few more goals. However, while Patrick's scoring long may that continue."

Bamford's loan spells at Dons last season were hindered by injuries but his purple patch this time around has made extending his deal beyond January an urgent priority for the club, especially with question marks about where else goals may come from.

Supporters may fear a repeat of the situation involving highly effective right back Adam Smith in 2012, who was recalled from Dons by his parent club Tottenham Hotspur and immediately loaned to Leeds United so he could gain experience at the higher level of the Championship.

"Patrick's words were 'the loan is up in January but I'd love to stay,'" said Robinson.

"I think with his all round game, he's the best striker we've had. He's got the lot and he's special, the kid will go all the way.

"I think my arms would be as wide as any door in this building in January if he wants to return.

"But the kid's development is the most important thing, he wants to play in the Premier League. You know what, he wants to play in it for Chelsea.

"He still believes he can do it and I'm not going to be the one who stops his dreams from materialising. Hopefully we can be dream makers at this football club."

'No regrets' over Worlds says Greg

OLYMPIC long jump champion Greg Rutherford says the World Championships were a 'learning curve' for him and that he has no regrets from the competition.

The Milton Keynes Athletic Club star failed to reach the final of the event in Moscow two months ago, missing the cut by two centimetres with a best distance of just 7.87m, well short of his personal best of 8.35m.

He was struggling with a hamstring injury in the build-up to the event and there were very real doubts about his participation until he passed a series of fitness tests demanded by governing body British Athletics.

Despite this, some have argued that Rutherford was clearly not fit enough to compete with British long jump rival Chris Tomlinson unable to bottle up his frustrations about being overlooked for the country's sole spot in Russia.

Rutherford, who has been plagued by hamstring tears throughout his career, has now been back in training for three weeks after a five week break and has his sights set firmly on bettering his previous Commonwealth Games best of a silver medal when the sporting extravaganza comes to Glasgow next summer.

"The hamstring is still slightly tight and the Worlds were a learning curve for me," said Rutherford.

"I was still riding the high of the Olympic Games.

"If I had jumped six metres then fair enough but I wasn't far off qualifying. I have no regrets in any way, shape or form."

Rutherford thrived off the home crowd when triumphing at London 2012 and is not fazed by the prospect of representing England at the Commonwealths in front of a Scottish audience, which he in fact thinks will be a positive for him.

"We've got the Commonwealth Games in Britain so I think that Olympic spirit will carry on and I want to be a part of that when it comes to Glasgow," he said.

"I've always had injuries but I always bounce back, and me not having an injury is weird really."
